Vivekananda School of Information Technology

Dr Dheeraj Malhotra commenced the discussion by talking about innovation, he cleared that innovation should be based on imagination and we need to bring a change in the market which could be done in many ways. He explained the importance of innovation and added that we cannot deny innovation if we want to grow in the corporate world. Innovation is something that everyone can do, it is approachable, feasible, and doable. He then discussed the problems we as a nation have faced in past years in starting with our startup. Then the importance of innovation in the corporate world was discussed. There are two ways to survive in the market, quality improvement can survive in the market which leads to incremental growth but through quality transformation, we can achieve exponential growth.

He also specified the need for revolution over evolution, he mentioned that we need to create a blame-free culture with deep listening. We need to stop making assumptions and judgments so that people can take new initiatives. He discussed the types of innovation and the role of IIT at covid time. He explained about IIC and the benefits for participants, MIC's Initiative, 360-degree innovation and startup support and then told about some of the student innovators who came up with their amazing ideas and achieved success.
